JOHN POST DROWNED

WAS CROSSING RIVER TO WORK

Unfortunate Man, Becoming Frightened, Stood Up in Boat Causing It to Capsize—George Lafey Had Narrow Escape.

John Post of near Black, Sheshequin township, was drowned Friday morning shortly after 7 o'clock, while crossing the Susquehanna river in a boat to his work on the piers for the James street bridge. George Lafey, who was in the boat with Post was also thrown into the raging river when the craft capsized, and saved himself by clinging to a cable running from the bank to the island. He was rescued from the icy water by his brother, Perry Lafey.

A heroic effort was made by James Hourihan to save Post, but the unfortunate man, weighted down by his clothes, sank for the last time when his rescuer was but a few feet from him. His body has not yet been recovered.

Story of the Drowning.

George Lafey lives in Sheshequin township, a short distance South of Quarry Glen, and John Post, the victim of the accident, lived over the hill near Black, his home being just over the line which divides Wysox and Sheshequin townships. Lafey had a boat which was caught floating down the stream some time ago, and he and Post used the craft to cross the river to and from their work, they being employed by Contractor Whalen, who is building the piers for the new James street bridge.

It was about 7 o'clock when they entered the boat Friday morning to cross over, and as the river is quite high, there being about a nine foot stage at present, they started far enough up stream to allow them to land near the bridge site on the island without being carried down stream by the swift current. Post occupied the rear seat, while Lafey was doing the rowing.

There is a cable stretched from the island to the bank on the East side of the river, on which a flat boat is worked by means of a pulley and a wire, ferry fashion. As the row boat in which Lafey and Post were crossing neared the cable, Post became excited, fearing that the boat would strike the cable. He started to arise and Lafey said "sit still, John, we won't touch that cable," and for a moment he was reassured, but as the frail craft was swept nearer to the wire, he again became alarmed.

Again Lafey advised him to remain seated, as there was no danger, but his warning was not heeded and as the boat came up to the cable, Post arose, stepped to one side and the next instant the boat was bottom side up, leaving the men struggling in the water.

Lafey Clings to Cable.

Lafey clutched the cable, which at that point was a few inches beneath the surface of the water, and hung on for dear life, shouting for help. Post went down, and it is believed he was carried under the cable where it was impossible for him to reach it.

Other employes on the pier work, hearing Lafey's cries, ran to the scene and when they arrived Post was nearly 300 feet below the cable, and about 30 feet from the island. He was seen to grab for some willows which he missed, and was carried on down.

Heroic Attempt at Rescue.

James Hourihan, a young man employed as engineer on one of the hoisting engines, ran down the bank after Post, and when near enough, jumped into the river. He was within a couple of yards of the struggling man when he disappeared beneath the surface. He did not come to the top of the water again, and as Hourihan was handicapped by his clothes, he could do nothing but turn back to the island. Several other men hurried to the point where Post went down for the last time and every effort was made to save him, but without avail.

Perry Lafey, a brother of George, seeing his brother's peril, jumped into a boat and rowed to his rescue. He was reached just in time, as the icy water was having its effect and his strength was fast leaving him.

Victim Was an Expert Swimmer.

John Post, the victim of the accident, was an expert swimmer, being considered one of the best along the river. Weighed down by his clothes, and a pair of rubber boots, his prowess was to no avail, the swift water having him completely at its mercy.

Searching parties spent all day trying to locate the body, but owing to the swollen condition of the river it may not be found until the waters recede. Some thought that the unfortunate man went down and in his last seconds of life, clutched the willows near the bottom and that his body became lodged there, although a search in that vicinity failed to bring any trace of him.

Deeply Deplored.

The untimely and tragic death of Mr. Post is deeply deplored. He was about 45 years of age, steady and industrious, and a man greatly respected in his community and among his fellow workmen. A wife and four children, Minnie and Raymond, and two small children, have been robbed of the love and care of a dutiful father. L. L. Post of Black, the father, and the following brothers and sisters of the unfortunate man also survive: Horace and Peter Post of Black, Mrs. Abel King of Bernice, and Mrs. George Archer of Wysox.

Finding of the Body.

The body of John Post, the Sheshequin townsip man, who was drowned Friday morning in the Susquehanna river near the site of the new James street bridge, at North Towanda, was found early Sunday morning. Porter Northrup and Olen Conrad, a brother-in-law of the drowned man recovered the body. It was lying in about eight feet of water, a short distance from the island shore, and about 300 feet below where Post was last seen. Northrup and Conrad had been dragging only a short time until the hook which had been rigged up by Northrup, caught on something which proved to be the body of the drowned man.

They towed the remains to the old Lehigh bridge and there by permission of the authorities brought it down to the foot of Park street in a boat where it was taken charge of by Murphy & Campbell, undertakers. The body was in a fair state of preservation, the two days in the water having had but little bad effect. The remains were prepared for burial and taken to the Post home near Black.

The funeral was held at the Post home Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock and at the church at Black at 11 o'clock.

Had Premonition of His Fate.

John Post, whose life was drowned out by the muddy waters of the Susquehanna, had a premonition of the fate he met. A few minutes before the accident, he went to the home of Perry Lafey, who lives a short distance above the house occupied by George Lafey, who was in the boat with Post when it was upset, and said, "Perry, I am afraid to cross the river this morning. Something tells me that if I attempt it I will hit that cable, upset and that will be the end of me. The river is so high and the current so strong I am afraid to row across." Lafey replied, "John, if I felt that way about it, I wouldn't make the attempt. I would go back home and not workt today."

To this Post replied that he needed the money and couldn't afford to lay off, but he didn't believe he would attempt to row across the river. Then he went to the home of George Lafey, stated his fears and asked George to accompany him across the river. Lafey being employed on the dismantling of the old Lehigh bridge, said that if he was afraid, he would row him across, and then walk down to his work.

From the minute Post entered the boat he talked about the warning he had, and kept saying that he was afraid of the cable. Lafey assured him that he would take him safely by the cable, but Post could not believe but what he was in danger. The instant the boat touched the cable, Post leaped to one side, the craft overturned, and the fate he feared was met in a few miuutes later.

Oar Lock Gave Out.

Perry Lafey who went to the rescue of his brother George, had a narrow escape from drowning. One of his oar locks gave out, leaving him with one oar to battle against the current. He swung his boat lengthwise and as the rear end struck the cable, he grabbed it with both hands, layed back flat on the bottom of the boat, and shot under the wire and to the rescue of his brother.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

Team Fell Into Ravine on Top of Man Who Was Not Injured.

A dump cart in charge of a man named Weissing of Hazleton went over a steep embankment Tuesday and landed, together with the horses, on top of the driver at the bottom of the ravine.

He was hauling at the time for Baird & company of Reading, who have several contracts. Other employees of the company by the aid of a jack got the team off of him. It was estimated that it weighed a ton at the least.

Weissing lay under the team motionless in death as they thought, but as the team was lifted off he arose and walked to the bank and sat down. Aside from a slight faintness he was uninjured. His escape is considered miraculous by his companions, who expected to find the life crushed out of him.

WILL REOPEN MINE.

T. J. Duggan Succeeds in Draining Long Valley Workings.

REWARDED AFTER 15 MONTHS

Drove Water Level For Over 1500 Feet, Expending Nearly $5,000 and Has Succeeded in Accomplishing What Seemed a Hopeless Task.

"The store drift," one of the best bituminous coal workings in the Long Valley district, will be reopened and worked. Back of this announcement lies a story of absorbing interest, the telling of which shows what keeping everlasting at a thing will do, and how a seemingly hopeless task was accomplished.

Eighteen Years Ago.

About 18 years ago, John Carroll and E. O. Macfarlane, both now deceased, but at that time two of the best known men in this section, started a water level to drain what is known in Long Valley as "the store drift," the continuous pumping of which cost about $500 per month. The water which caused the trouble came from what is known as the old workings. The "store drift" contained a valuable vein of coal and if the water could be drained the mining of the coal could be carried on at small cost and great profit to the owners.

After working on the water level for some time, Messrs. Carroll and Macfarlane decided that the level was too high, that it would not touch the lake of water which was causing the trouble, and so abandoned the task. For about ten years the "store drift" has been idle, with the water constantly flooding the workings.

Believed They Were Right.

Thomas J. Duggan, proprietor of the Long Valley store, believed that the water level planned and started by Messrs. Macfarlane and Carroll was all right and would drain the lake if pushed to completion. When the Susquehanna & New York railroad company secured control of the Long Valley mines Mr. Duggan entered into an agreement with the company that if he drained the mine he was to have the privilege of mining and selling the coal in "the store drift."

Many Months of Hard Work.

Fifteen months ago, Mr. Duggan put a gang of men at work in the water level and until last Friday they were constantly picking away at the wall of earth which held the water back. Two shifts of men have been worked steadily, and Mr. Duggan estimates that he has spent about $5,000 in the undertaking.

People laughed at his persistence, some saying that he could dig a life time, and never succeed, but Mr. Duggan only smiled and kept working away. Last Friday afternoon, after discharging a heavy load of dynamite in the wall of rock and dirt, the workmen were awarded in seeing a stream of water break through the bank.

The news that they had tapped the lake spread through Long Valley like fire, and people shouted and sang in their glee, and with happiness over the success which seemed to crown Mr. Duggan's efforts.

Narrow Escape From Drowning.

Ascertaining that it was but a thin wall which still held the body of water, Mr. Duggan who was being assisted by his cousin, James Duggan, and Asa Heering, made plans for breaking down the wall which stood between them and all they hoped for.

A ladder was placed in the shaft which had been cut through the roof of the level, and when all was in readiness, the wall was given a final prod and down it came. The men climbed up the ladder just in time to miss being carried to certain death on the breast of the rushing waters which completely filled the nine foot level. Their escape from drowning was miraculous, indeed, as the water rushed out with a roar which could be heard for two miles.

Ten Feet of Water.

A wave ten feet high swept out of the level and down into the Schraeder creek, carrying trees, big stones and everything in its path. Constable McCracken, William Platt and Otto Mayer, three well known Towandians, stood on the bank of the creek some distance below the mine when the water rushed down and they were appalled by the oncoming flood, escaping to a pace of safety just as the mighty wave swept by. It is estimated that the lake covered at least 18 acres, so an idea of the volume of water which poured out of the mine is easily had.

Had Desired Effect.

The tapping of the lake has had the desired effect. The "store drift" is now free of water, and in a few days will be opened and a force of miners put to work digging coal.

T. J. Duggan, who spent his money and gave so much of his time to the project is being congratulated on every side. He is a young man whose pluck will be rewarded in a financial way when the coal is placed upon the market.

ANOTHER SILK MILL.

Dress Goods Manufactory in the Tracy Shoe Factory Building.

VERY PROMISING INDUSTRY.

Seneca Silk Company Will Soon Be Manufacturing Silk Fabrics in Factory Now Being Established in Towanda—Work Started.

In the course of a few weeks Towanda will have another good industry within the borough limits. In December it is expected the Seneca Silk Manufacturing company will have in operation in the Tracy shoe factory building on Main street, a plant for the manufactory of dress goods and other fabrics of silk.

The factory building, which by the way, is one of the finest in Northern Pennsylvania, has been leased for a term of three years with an option and privilege of buying any time, by the Seneca company. Thomas Wright who is to be local manager, is now in Towanda and has a force of men at work fitting up the factory preparatory to the starting of the plant.

What Will Be Manufactured.

Fifty looms for the weaving of silk dress goods will be put in operation at once. The work which will be done is the warping and weaving of silk into dress goods, black fabrics alone to be manufactured at first. Fifty people will be employed at the start including a number of skilled workmen who will come from New York. The help required is mostly boys, girls and women. One woman can, after a little experience operate two looms, earning from $8 to $12 per week.

The number of looms will be increased to 100 as soon as possible and when the plant is in full running order from 75 to 100 people will be employed. As the employees become more experienced, additional lines of silk fabrics will be manufactured, and the plant made a general silk manufactory.

An application has been made for a charter for the new company, and the same will be heard in Harrisburg on Dec. 2. The parties named in the application are Nerbert Hartley, Thomas Wright, Howard S. Christian and William Dickel. These gentlemen are all experienced in silk manufacturing and have the qualifications and capital to make of the new industry something worth while to themselves and to Towanda.

DIED OF STRANGULATION.

James Ryder, Sr., of Green's Landing, Meets Horrible Death.

James Ryder, Sr., an aged and respected citizen of Green's Landing, met a horrible death Wednesday noon. He was eating dinner at the home of his son, James Ryder, Jr., and while eating a pancake a piece of the food lodged in his throat, causing strangulation. An effort was made to relieve his terrible sufferings but to no avail and death resulted in a few moments.

The unfortunate man was 82 years of age, and was highly respected by all who knew him. The funeral was be held at the Ryder home Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, and the remains will be taken to Bumpville for interment.

A Foxy Tale.

Messrs. Fisher Welles, Bruce Dodge and D. L. Taylor were on a hunting trip near Warren Centre last week and bagged five rabbits, five birds and five foxes, but only one wild cat. The foxes are alive and are being kept in the old "coal office" across the creek. The hunters claim to have run them down, but as two others of the litter escaped and geeting into a hennery were creating such damage among the feathered animals that they had to be shot, there is some question among the people whether it was in a foot race that they outran the Messrs. Reynard or on their automobile.—Wyalusing Rocket.

Sachette, is alleged to have sold liquor without a license on Aug. 1, of this year. He will be tried at the December term of court in Easton.

When the strike was settled, he sold the store, went back to Sayre and resumed his place on the Lehigh. ACCIDENT IN VOSBURG TUNNEL.

Three Section Men Struck by Train and Severely Injured.

George Henry of Towanda, Allen Hess of East Towanda and Archie Miller of Vosburg, Lehigh section men, were struck by a work train in Vosburg tunnel Saturday morning and all three sustained injuries which will lay them up for some time. Miller is in the Packer hospital with a crushed arm, while Hess is at his home in East Towanda with a badly injured ankle. Henry was bruised and cut in several places, but not seriously injured.

The Lehigh is at present making repairs to the tunnel. It is being drained and the stone ballast is being renewed. Miller, Hess and Henry were among those employed on the repairs Saturday morning, and when a "junk" freight entered the tunnel, the workmen stepping to an adjoining track. The roar of the train prevented them from hearing the work train which was moving slowly on the track on which they were standing. All but three of the men jumped from danger. Miller was struck, knocked down and it was at first thought he was fatally injured. He was placed aboard a milk train which arrived at Sayre at 1:55 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and was taken at once to the hospital. His left arm was severely injured. The flesh just below his elbow is literally crushed to shreds and the bones of the elbow are exposed to view. The physicians say the arm can be saved but it will be permanently weakened.

Hess was also knocked down, one of his ankles being crushed. He was brought to his home in East Towanda. Henry was also struck by the work train, but was more fortunate than Miller and Hess as the wheels did not touch him.

Missing Boy Found.

Martin Smith, the eight years old Sayre boy, who disappeared from home last Wednesday morning, was located Saturday at the home of James Campbell, near Green's Landing. The boy is a lover of nature, and could not resist the longing for country life. After leaving home he went to Green's Landing, learned that Mr. Campbell wanted a boy to do chores and went and hired out for the place. He has been taken back to Sayre to resume his studies in school.

Sayre Has No Cause for Worry.

The village solons of Sayre are trying to secure a better street lighting system for the railroad town. Some of the council want gas and some want street lights. Judging from the amount of fussing being done by the solons, one of these evenings, the town will be like Towanda was for a coupl of months—gloriously gloomy. But then there is really no cause for worry by the good people of the village located between Athens and South Waverly—they have their never failing supply of torrid atmosphere to fall back on, which has always been Sayre's greatest advantage over the county seat.

Tonsiline Cures Sore Throat

The throat is one of the most delicate parts of the body. It is also one of the most important, and should be given the best possible care.

The throat is the gateway to the body. The air we breathe, the food we eat, the liquids we drink, all pass through it. It is very easily affected by cold, strain, exposure, etc., and Sore Throat is therefore one of our most common ailments. Strangely enough, it is also one of the most neglected.

Sore Throat is a very serious matter, for the whole system is in danger in consequence of it.

Every Sore Throat patient is a candidate for Tonsilitis, Quinsy, Diphtheria and other serious or fatal diseases, all of which can positively be prevented by the timely cure of the Sore Throat by the use of TONSILINE.

If taken in time a dose or two will do it.

TONSILINE is made to cure throat diseases and nothing else. It is the one remedy for this purpose sold largely in the United States. Every user endorses it; every physician, knowing its virtues, commends it.

The one most important thing to remember about TONSILINE is the fact that it really does cure Sore Throat.

All druggists, 25c and 50c bottles.

Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which too often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its freshness and the form of its fairness.

As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate womanly organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form at once witness to the fact in renewed comeliness. Nearly a million women have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. Made wholly of those native, American, medicinal roots most highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

For nursing mothers, or for those broken-down in health by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mothers, to prepare the system for the coming of baby and making its advent easy and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as "Favorite Prescription." It can do no harm in any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine nicely adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments.

Dr. Pierce may be consulted by letter free of charge. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

On Saturday night four men, who were walking along a street near the Allis-Chalmers plant and within about two blocks of the city hall, were held up by a solitary robber, who stepped out from behind a building as they were passing and relieved them of their valuables.

DEATH OF A VETERAN.

William Yontz, Well Known Citizen of Sayre, Passes Away.

William Yontz a veteran of the Civil war and well known as a member of the Order of Railway Conductors, died at 9:15 o'clock Tuesday evening at his home in Athens, after a long illness.

He was first attacked with brain trouble four years ago last June and it was then that he resigned from the employ of the Lehigh. About six weeks ago he sustained a stroke of apoplexy and from that time was confined to his bed until death came. About a week ago he sustained a second stroke of apoplexy.

Mr. Yontz was born in Waverly on Sept. 13, 1845, and spent most of his life in this valley. After passing his childhood in Waverly he lived for a time at Rome and Towanda. After leaving Towanda he resided for a time in Waverly, then he lived for four years in Sayre and 21 years ago he moved his family to Athens.

He is survived by his wife and four children, Miss Lilian Yontz, a teacher in the Sayre schools, Miss Pearl Yontz a central operator for the Bell Telephone company, Norman Yontz of Sayre and Leslie Yontz of Athens.

Mr. Yontz served during the Civil war in company L, 5th New York Cavalry and was a member of the Perkins Post, G. A. R., of Athens. He was for many years a member of the Southern Tier Division, O. R. BOY KILLS BEAR.

Tioga County Lad Badly Scared But Manages to Plug Bruin.

Stanley Welfling, a 13 years old lad of Germania, Tioga county, killed a bear one day last week. He was engaged in gathering beech nuts in the woods and at the advice of an older friend he had taken a gun with him, having little idea as to the nature of the game he was to come in contact with.

While picking up nuts he heard a peculiar noise which he knew was a bear. He was badly frightened and started to leave the woods. When he picked up his gun he heard another growl which hastened his flight. He had taken only a few steps when suddenly the bear loomed up directly in front of him. Notwithstanding his bad fright the lad raised the gun to his shoulder and taking deliberate aim he fired, killing the bear in his tracks at the first shot.

Valuable Invention.

Clark E. Frear, proprietor of the Winola House, Lake Winola, is the inventor of an automobile, the power of which is transmitted to all four wheels. It is said to be very simple in construction, with little friction, if any, while running. The inventor claims that with the pulling power attached all four wheels it will take less power to run it and that it can climb a steeper hill and make a complete circle in less than one-half the distance of any machine on the market. The patent makes it feasible to attach the power to wagons with steel tires and propel them up any hill or over any road in any kind of weather. The application for a patent was filed Jan. 2 and granted on the 15th inst. Since then Mr. Frear has received a number of letters from different parts of the country from parties who have examined the invention, stating that they believe he had a valuable one.—Pittston Gazette.

TOWANDA, PA., NOV. 14, 1907.

Profanity can never be excused on any ground, but it becomes doubly objectionable when interjected into business or social conversation, but is, nevertheless, an evidence of depravity as well as of intellectual poverty.

The village of Renova, not many miles from Williamsport, is very much in the limelight at present. In less than two weeks the town has been startled by the shooting of an escaping prisoner, the Donley murder and the accidental killing of one hunter by another in mistake for a rabbit.

Lovers of oysters should be thoroughly satisfied that the bivalves are pure and fresh before making purchases. A Lycoming county man was made quite ill one evening last week as the result of eating some oysters which had evidently been treated with some preservative.

Chancellor Day of Syracuse University, is in erruption again. The hired man of John D. Rockefeller is speaking his piece and arraigning the President, calling him hard names and accusing him of villainous conduct. Chancellor Day may be a successful teacher and a splendid organizer, but he will hardly be accepted by the people as a statesman. It will do no harm for him to speak his piece when he is full and running over, but if the people pay attention to him and adopt his ideas they might lead to harmful conditions.

Chestnuts are a food very similar to potatoes in value, although on the side of nutrition the advantage is with the nut. The latter has but 53 per cent. water, while water in the potato is found to the extent of 76 per cent. We are just beginning to learn generally in this country that the chestnut may be cooked exactly as the potato is cooked, and that it is palatable either boiled, baked or roasted. All very good and true. But if the chestnut formed any part of the staple food of Bradford county some of us would go hungry, as the crop is not very large, the nut is small, but the worm the biggest part thereof and very much in evidence. But all the same the cultivation of the chestnut should go on, especially in land that will raise nothing else.

A German scientist attributes the increasing nervousness, breakdown and insanity among civilized people to the training of the intellect in youth to the neglect of the body. It is all wrong, he says, to start a child in school at six years of age, and teach him to read, write and do many other things that he ought not to think of for years to come. The system stunts the intellectual growth of the child, and sows seeds which later blossom in the lunatic asylum. We are of the opinion that statistics will not bear out this scientist's belief. There are too many bright-faced, happy and vigorous youngsters attending school, who grow up to perfect manhood and womanhood and many of them really start studying long before they are six years of age. In fact they start, naturally, from the cradle. When a baby looks at some toy in a wondering way, the child is studying, it is seeking wisdom. It is the excesses, the strenuous pace traveled between the ages of 20 and 30 that breeds insanity and causes nervous collapses.

THE NEW STATE.

The great state of Oklahoma, including as much territory as the states of Illinois and Indiana, will come into the Union next week, making the forty-sixth state and bringing in a Democratic constitution of 60,000 words. President Roosevelt is given credit for wading through that sea of words, and pronouncing the work as well done, and very thorough and complete. And Bryan says it is even a better constitution than that of the United States.

It may be great things were done when the constitution was completed and a Prohibition pinnacle put on. But the chief beauty of that part of the world is that the soil is so rich and productive that the farmers can raise just as big crops as they want. It has been a buffalo pasture since Adam was a kid. We have there in the great "Missouri Purchase" an empire in extent, and an empire in its ability to supply the world with grain and produce revenue.

Pure Blood is a Defense,

it means safety. A person whose blood is in an impure and impoverished condition is in the greatest danger of catching any infectious or epidemic disease. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the mildest, safest and surest purifier of the blood, thus striking at the root of Kidney, Liver and Bladder diseases. $1.00 at all druggists.

ABOUT TAKING A COLD.

No one knows exactly and at all times how he takes a cold, and after he gets one the doctors don't know how to rid him of it. It as mysterious as rheumatism and has as many remedies—say, ten thousand, more or less. One doctor has come to the conclusion that a cold is a "dirt disease" and can be cured by abstaining from food entirely for two days and nights. But with colds, as everything else, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

So one wise physician asserts that it is practically impossible, however, for anyone to catch cold who habitually breathes properly, or, in other words, who uses the whole of the lungs for the purpose. Most people use about half the lung space, with the result that the blood does not get properly oxydized. Whenever you catch yourself holding your breath, or breathing short, at once put the will to work, and draw a series of deep, natural breaths, and you will find that it has a marvelous effect in banishing fear, weariness, doubt or pain.

The following is a grand exercise to accustom your lungs to take in its full complement of oxygen: Stand erect by an open window and steadily breathe through the nose until you feel your lungs are quite full, then exhale through the mouth slowly. At first you will find yourself getting dizzy. You are intoxicated with oxygen. Later on you will get used to the life saving stuff, and you will find that in every respect you are healthier and stronger.

THE LIQUOR BUSINESS.

The liquor business in the United States is face to face with the gravest problem that has ever confronted it. Men may say what they please about the failure of prohibition to prohibit, but the fact remains that there are large sections of our country in which it is extremely difficult if not impossible to obtain liquor. In the South particularly, the laws are rigidly enforced. This is indicated not only by the large falling off in government fees for internal revenue licenses, but also by the good order which prevails in certain hitherto turbulent sections. One reason the liquor business has provoked antagonism is found in its political activity. Another is found in the character of some of the men engaged in it. The trade is beginning to take the hint. At the recent meeting of the New York State Wholesale Liquor Dealers' association certain significant resolutions were adopted, among them one making the granting of license to sell liquor largely dependent upon the character and conduct of the applicant and urging that the laws be so changed that ultimately the business may be conducted by men of character and standing in the connection with the construction and agitation of this sort among the liquor men.

D. A. R. Meeting.

The George Clymer Chapter, D. A. R., held the regular monthly meeting on Friday last, and was hospitably entertained by Mrs. T. R. Braund. Thirty members responded to roll call. The subject for the year is "Early History of Bradford County," and papers on the subject were read by Mrs. E. A. Parsons, Mrs. I. P. Spalding, and Mrs. G. E. Frost. The report of the State conference at Williamsport was given by Mrs. William Little. Interesting incidents of the conference were told by Mrs. Carter and Mrs. W. W. Jackson. Two new members of the chapter were present for the first time, and several members from neighboring chapters. Refreshments were served and the meeting was adjourned. Corresponding secretary.

Of Interest to School Directors.

Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, Pennsylvania State Health commissioner, has notified school directors that they must see to it that the health laws are obeyed. Dr. Dixon says that they will be rigidly enforced "to the end of even cutting off school appropriations, followed by the prosecution of principal and teachers." He cites the laws compelling directors to examine as to the sanitation in and about the schools; the vaccination law, and the execution of the outbuilding law. He does not intend to give more warnings, but his first action will be to have the state appropriation withdrawn and the other penalties will follow.

Think Old Way the Best.

Candidates for the coming February election will be put in nomination in Wayne county by the old-fashioned caucus method. The general consensus of opinion throughout the state is that for counties having no cities or large towns the old way of selecting candidates is the best. The primaries cost Wayne county last Spring $1,600.—Honesdale Citizen.

The Lestershire, (N. Y.) Record voices the sentiments of every publisher when it says: "About the most ungracious thing a newspaper publisher ever has to do is advertise for pay, and as a matter of business, the fact that some man's wife has left his bed and board without due cause or provocation. We never see such a customer darken our door without wanting to kick him into the street. We don't believe that any woman ever quit home without cause or provocation. But we do believe that thousands of women adhere to a bad home when half the cause or provocation would drive an average man to perdition. And the man who under any circumstances can advertise his wife as he would a horse or dog, to say the least don't deserve a wife, and the fact itself is proof conclusive that she ought to run away."

BE "CHESTY."

Health Culture discusses the characteristics of the long-lived in an effort to get at the secret of life and supply a recipe for octogenarianism. It is optimistically assumed that this existence is by no means in "a vale of tears," but that it is a good thing to protract it as long as possible. Those who live, it is observed, have the body "expanded." They are "chesty" and erect, giving heart, lungs, liver and stomach plenty of room to function in. The expanded man is contrasted with the "collapsed" man who depresses his chest, curves his spine and crowds all his vital organs together and downward, thus preventing them from their work properly. What the would-be Methusaleh needs to do is to hold up his head, swell his chest and practice deep breathing. He must also restrict himself to a frugal diet, taking food and in small quantities. It is recommended that he drink water only, though it is admitted that some octogenarians have used alcoholic drinks freely. If water is distasteful, "much juicy fruit" is a fair compromise. Not only must the coveter of gray hairs study to acquire a correct posture and carriage, but he must not be "fussy." "The octogenarian," says our genial contemporary, "is not calm because he is old; he is old because he is calm—always has been calm. The little, worrying, straining 'hustler,' rushing about after the tawdry prizes, place, pelf, power, studying only the fluctuations of supply and demand, forgetting that the glory of man is not in what he is—this little struggler would know that by every gasp and sigh, by every flushing and paling, by every moment of worry, he curtails his only, his priceless heritage, life itself. If he will but study the great and wise ones who live long in the land, he will note that one of their own-present characteristics is calmness—and the deliberate, easy movements that are possible only to those who are habitually calm."

The "hustler" gets the dollar he chases, and with it the luxuries it brings; but too often in getting it he saps his vitality by haste and worry and cuts life short by greedy enjoyment. Overwork and excitement ultimately wreck the nervous system and when that fails all the organs of life are misdirected and go wrong.

THE P., B. AND E. RAILROAD.

The Williamsport News says: "A great deal of fun has been poked at the proposed Pittsburg, Binghamton and Eastern railroad, in the past few years, but it begins to look as if this road would be an assured fact in the not too distant future. The bonds of the company are now offered for sale by a New York company and it is likely that they will be disposed of to investors in this part of the state. The survey for the road from Clearfield to Binghamton was made some time ago.

"Local interest in this road is growing in intensity because of the fact that the line would touch Williamsport, passing through West Williamsport on its way to the New York state line. A branch of the road would be built into the coal lands of Oregon Hill and English Center. It is hoped that this line will be built, as it would add another to the railroad lines which have made Williamsport an important point on their routes. And there is no reason why such a road would not be a paying investment."

Looking abroad over this Commonwealth and over the vast txpanse of the country at large, The Harrisburg Telegraph talks thus hopefully and confidently: "At this period of the year it is customary for corporations, big and little, to suspend some of the operations that have been pushing along during the Summer season. Reduction of forces in certain directions as Winter approaches is taken as a matter of course by those familiar with the necessities of the case and is not regarded as indicating anything radically wrong with the industrial situation."

Nothing in the history of science is more instructive, according to the experts who prepared the recent report of the British commission on tuberculosis, than the vast difficulties experienced in propagating the use of milk of the goat. Physicians of the highest eminence have affirmed that in the milk of the goat nature provides the best possible solution of the problem of tuberculosis. In saying that the goat is not subject to tuberculosis, Dr. Finley Bell, of the New York Academy of Medicine, is in agreement with Sir William Broadbent.

Examination of school children for defective eyesight is not a joke. In one school in New York state the doctor found a boy who was blind in one eye and did not know it, and a Brooklyn girl who had never been able to see the blackboard in her schoolrooms would not wear glasses because the other girls laughed at her.

Sheatz's plurality in Bradford county is considered significant in view of the fact that two years ago Berry, Democratic candidate for state treasurer carried the county by 900. Sheatz's plurality this year shows a tremendous Republican gain, and puts Bradford back in the Republican column.

Stevenson, prohibition candidate for state treasurer, did not receive as large a vote in this county as it was believed he would. This shows that many more people talk prohibition than vote it.

With bees so plentiful it seems strange that there is so much rheumatism in this country, when the sting of a bee is said to be a sure cure for the ailment.

Reputable and fearless newspaperism has just won a notable triumph in Germany. The acquittal of Editor Haden from the charge of libel lodged by one of the favorites of the kaiser will do a great deal toward putting down much of the immorality that is said to hide itself in the shadow of European courts.

EAST TROY.

Willis Sayles of Kelloggsville, N. Y., was a very welcome caller on her many friends in this place Sunday and Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ardell Packard and daughter were over Sunday guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Cole.

All who were not permitted to hear the Rev. J. D. Fry on Sunday morning certainly missed a great treat. Although a mistake was made in the hour which should have been in the morning, yet a good sized congregation was out, but only five or six members of the W. C. T. U. Rev. Fry used as the basis of his discourse these words, Jeremiah fifth chapter and 13th verse: "A wonderful and horrible thing is committed in the land," and added, "And the people allow it." He likened the saloon keeper as a hard-en-faced one, who care not how much misery he causes in the land only so that he waxes fat, and his coffers are full. We wished we could give his sermon, especially for the benefit of the young, also for encouragement for the members of the W. C. T. U. which he said meant so much to the order, for he believes that if a reform is ever made it will be through the Christian churches. He also said that the members need not be discouraged for some day, not far distant, even though they were few in numbers in this vicinity, yet they would be a link in the great chain that would surround this world when the pure white banner of temperance waved over our land. He spoke very feelingly of our beloved leader in this great work, Frances E. Willard. In conclusion said be ever ready to do your duty for there are young to educate and help, and bid the members God-speed in the work. The choir sang several songs very appropriate for the occasion. Mention should be made of the anthem, "It stingeth like an adder and biteth like a serpent," which was fine and well rendered.

It has just been discovered that the Pennsylvania and the Lehigh Valley railroads, about Hazleton, have been systematically robbed of thousands of dollars worth of iron and brass by junk dealers. Cars left standing on sidings are robbed of brake shoes and brass journals are removed where possible. Detectives are looking out for the thieves.

BURLINGTON.

The oyster supper and entertainment in the basement of the Morley Brothers' barn was a success; proceeds $15. The entertainment, which consisted of solos by the Misses Louise Felton and Ellen Morley; recitations by Mrs. Julia Campbell, Miss Mary Ross and Miss Gertrude Strope, and choruses by the Burlington borough school, with organ accompaniment by Miss Felton, showed a good deal of talent on the part of the performers. The oysters were deftly prepared by Mrs. Lent and Mrs. Schwoerer. Those who came from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Felton of Towanda, Miss Lena Lane from the Mansfield Normal school and Robert Hill from the Athens High school.

Mrs. Julia Campbell spent last week with Mrs. Hattie Litzleman of Sayre; her mother, Mrs. Moscrip, stayed with Mrs. Morley during her absence.

Pupils of Burlington borough school who stand at the head of their grade in the second month's examination are: Eighth grade, Elizabeth Heath; sixth grade, Ruby Andrus; fifth, Allen Ross; third, Celia Avery; second, Howard Ross, and first, Ralph Andrus.

Boss Eel Catcher Fined.

J. H. Barton of Blackwells, Tioga county, gained great notoriety as a successful fisherman by setting eel racks in Pine Creek last month and catching 1,800 eels, weighing from two to five pounds each, in a single night. This catch met with ready sale at 20 cents a pound. Saturday J. E. Conklin of Bradford, McKean county, a state warden, had Mr. Barton arrested, claiming that the racks were used on Sunday and therefore illegally, Barton was arrested and arraigned before a Wellsboro justice and fined $25 and costs.

Hearing Adjourned.

No action was taken at the hearing on the application of the Pittsburg, Binghamton and Eastern railroad to change its proposed route, which was held before the Public Service commission in Albany Thursday. The Erie and the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad companies were yet undecided whether or not they will oppose this application and their attorneys asked for an adjournment, their request being granted.

Miss Blanche Curran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Curran, who underwent an operation for appendicitis in the Packer hospital a few weeks ago, was brought home by her father Friday afternoon. She has nearly recovered from her illness and operation.

Miss Hattie Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Stone of Prattville, this county, who has been engaged with the International Harvester company, at their office at Auburn, N. Y., has resigned her position with them and will make an extended visit with her uncle, Dimon Stone, at Walla Walla, Wash.

Dr. S. Andral Kilmer of Binghamton, N. Y., the well known specialist for cancers, tomors, bunches, sores, ulcers, lumps, abscesses, enlarged glands, internal and external growths, female and chronic diseases, will be in Waverly, Hotel Snyder, Wednesday, Nov. 20. This will be a grand opportunity for you to consult him free of charge, near your own home. See large adv. on page 6.

CUT A WIDE SWATH.

Pearl Browning Made Staid Sayre Take Notice and Regret.

HIS LOYAL BROTHERS PAUSE.

Started in to Settle His Unpaid Accounts, But Stopped on Learning That It Will Require at Least $1,000.

Sayre, the staid little railroad village up the river, has been made to set up and notice things, as is evidenced by the following story from Saturday's Times-Record:

"Richard Browning came to Sayre Friday to settle bills contracted by his brother, Pearl Browning, but to his surprise he found they amounted to about $1,000. He is now awaiting the arrival of another brother from Binghamton and then they will consult as to what is best for them to do.

"Pearl Browning proved to be a pearl of great price to the business men of Sayre for there is hardly a one that is not carrying the name of the young man on a ledger. Browning's home was formerly in Rome. His parents and his brothers are highly reseptced. Pearl is a tall, handsome appearing chap, always well attired and he found favor in the eyes of many women. He obtained employment in the Lehigh freight office and immediately commenced cutting a swath socially. He was regular in attendance at the churches, but he changed from one church to another as soon as he had worn out his welcome. He somtimes sang in choirs and in one instance left a church after he had succeeded in borrowing money from the clergyman in charge. He had about the smoothest tongue for borrowing money that ever loosened a dollar from a pocket. He borrowed from people who were almost strangers and business men were easy for him. His salary from the Lehigh was sufficiently large for an unmarried man to live well and dress well and what Pearl did with the borrowed money is not known. About two months ago he went to Justice Nelson with a request that the justice assist him in straightening his finances. He gave the justice a list of his debts, showing that he owed business men and borrowed money amounting to about $1,000. Finally after discussing the matter for some time he gave Justice Nelson an assignment on his wages to run month after month. The justice was to pay his board, give him $10 for spending money and apply the remainder of his salary on his debts. For one month the scheme worked. The justice took check, paid Pearl's board, gave him $10 and the remainder was distributed. But when Oct. 31 came Browning drew his check and that night he packed his suit case, and departed from the Park Hotel. He left behind a trunk, a large number of pictures of women, a mandolin and a banjo. From that time he has not been seen in Sayre. Richard Browning says he has paid many bills for Pearl and had intended to keep paying them but when he found the amount was so great he paused.

"The last time Richard Browning paid any of Pearl's bills, to the knowledge of the Sayre police was about the middle of the Summer just passed. Pearl had assigned the wages due him from the Lehigh to a money-lender. Then he drew his wages and refused to settle. He was arrested, arraigned before Justice Carey and his brother came over from Rome and settled. Soon afterwards he assigned an N. P. L. policy, on which a dividend was due this month, to his brother and Harry Ellis of Waverly and this he had to leave behind when he suddenly departed with his suit case."

Ginseng Growers Prosperous.

The ginseng root growers in this section of which there are quite a number, all seem to be doing well. An acre of ginseng is roughly estimated to be worth about $5,000, and it is probable that there is about that amount of ground under cultivation in and around Tunkhannock, divided among the following men: Benjamin Conrad, B. W. Lewis, Rolla Frear, W. A. Kittredge, Charles A. Graham, Benjamin Frey, S. S. Hatfield, Dr. B. E. Bidleman. Harmon Ball of East Lemon, has a bed of roots 5x18 feet square, which he sold this year to B. F. Conrad for $83. The roots were three years old. William Bacon of Nicholson township, has nearly a half acre of roots under cultivation, from which he realizes hundreds of dollars every year.—Tunkhannock Republican-New Age.

Work Suspended.

Work on the state roads came to an end at Canton last week, when the horses, etc., were shipped to a point near Philadelphia, where Mr. Evans has another large contract. Work will be resumed at Canton in the Spring when the work will be completed.

Rev. Graves Resigns.

NEWS OF THE COUNTY SEAT.

MOB TORE UP TRACKS AND PUT IN GRADE CROSSING.

Towanda Capitalists Rendered Valuable Assistance by Farmers.

The Pennsylvania and Maryland Street Railway company, of which C. H. Jennings of Towanda, is president, has been having some very strenuous times down in Somerset county. They sought to cross the tracks of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad at Boynton, but the officials of that company opposed them.

Bright and early the other morning and before the B. and O. officials were aware as to what was up, several hundred farmers came to the assistance of the street railway company, tore up the tracks of steam road and put in a grade crossing.

Supervisor M. H. Foley of the Pittsburg division of the Baltimore, started to the scene of the trouble, but his train was derailed and the crew overpowered.

Besides C. H. Jennings, George R. Hill and E. F. Kizer, also of Towanda, are heavy stockholders in the Pennsylvania and Maryland Street Railway company, which the B. and O sought to stop.

A bucket of bricks which had just been hoisted stayed the fall of the scaffold long enough to allow the men on it to save themselves, but a faling brick struck Sendruco on the head as he stood at the base of the chimney and he was almost instantly killed.

Splendid Record.

George W. Manville of Towanda, for two years employed by the P., B. and E. Railroad company as chauffeur, has made a record in the handling of an automobile which perhaps is unequalled. During the two years Mr. Manville has run the big 60 h. p. Berliet touring car 40,000 miles without an accident. During the two years and the long trips through farming districts, he so managed his car that not one horse was frightened, and not an accident resulted from his machine in any way. Mr. Manville covered many miles at a minute clip. The fastest time ever made between Towanda and Canton was reeled off by him, the 26 miles of rough, hilly country road being covered in 45 minutes.

Dr. Marshall's Appointment.

$50,000 IS AT STAKE

Celebrated Samuel Pringle Will Case on Trial This Week.

JUDGE CAMERON ON BENCH

Jury Will Decide Whether $50,000 Worth of Property Belongs to Luzerne County Relatives of Pringle or to Sayre Parties.

A Bradford county jury this week will decide whether $50,000 worth of property goes to Luzerne county relatives or to parties in Sayre.

Court in session this week is a special term, called to determine the validity of the will of Samuel Pringle, late of Sayre, a man past 80 years, at the time of his death. Disposing of the bulk of of his fortune of $50,000, or over, to Mrs. E. R. Kline of Sayre, with whom he spent the last few years of his life, and made the recipient of his bounty for her kindness to him. Samuel Pringle was a bachelor and formerly lived near Wilkes-Barre, with his sisters, and after whose death, being without a home, he removed to Sayre and made his home with Dr. and Mrs. E. R. Kline, Mrs. Kline being a distant relative, who during her childhood and until her marriage with Dr. Kline, was a member of the family with Samuel Pringle.

Rodney A. Mercur, Esq., was named by Mr. Pringle as his executor. The deed and regular drawing and execution of the will is not disputed, but the nephews and nieces in Luzerne county claim they were cut out of remembrance on account of the extreme age, mental weakness of Mr. Pringle and undue influence of Mrs. Kline. While at Wilkes-Barre, and before Mr. Pringle decided to make his home at Sayre, he had made a will in which he gave Mrs. Kline $6,000. After coming to Sayre he decided to give the amount to her at once in his life time and drew his check to her on the Wilkes-Barre bank in the Spring of 1901. The relatives there found out about this, enjoined the bank from paying and started proceedings to have him declared by the court to be weak minded.

After proceedings were started the Wilkes-Barre people learned the statute did not authorize such proceeding. The legislature was in session and in a few weeks an amendment to the statute was passed. The relatives opposed to Mr. Pringle, withdrew the old, and started new proceedings, but after full hearing before Judge Fanning in the Fall of 1901, the court adjudicated Samuel Pringle not of weak mind under the meaning of the statute. After this the Wilkes-Barre relatives, it now appears, were cut out of his will. Samuel Pringle died in the Spring of 1904. The probating of the will was bitterly oposed before W. J. McCabe, then register and recorder of this county. The register pronounced the will valid and probated it. From this the Luzerne county relatives appealed to court and asked for a jury trial and the court granted an issue for a jury to determine whether Samuel Pringle was of sufficient mind and without undue influence to make a valid will, making the said executor plaintiff in support of the will and Nelson Pringle and others defendants, contesting its validity.

The case is of absorbing interest on account of the amount of property involved and the standing of the parties to it. The plaintiff is represented by Lilley & Wilson of Towanda, and with them Hoyt & Schrier of Athens, and the defendants by William Maxwell of Towanda, and with him John T. Lennahan, ex Judge Frank M. Wheaton, and James L. Morris, all of Wilkes-Barre, and A. L. Laws of Sayre.

Hon. David Cameron of Wellsboro, president judge of Tioga county, is presiding on account of Judge Fanning having heard the weak minded proceedings. Mr. Fanning will probably be sworn as a witness. The case will take all the week and Judge Fanning will employ the jurors not sworn, trying other cases in court room No. 2, in which attorneys in the Pringle controversy are not interested.

SLANDER CASE SETTLED.

Kaufman-Rosenthal Controversy Amicably Adjusted by Attorneys.

The case of M. Kaufman vs. David Rosenthal, an action for damages for slander was not heard before arbitrators Friday as was expected. The case has been amicably adjusted through the efforts of William Maxwell for Kaufman, and Lilley & Wilson and D. C. DeWitt for Rosenthal. The defendant Rosenthal pays the court costs and Kaufman settles his own costs in the case. The other terms of settlement have not been made public.

The case grew out of the robbery of the Kaufman home last Summer, after which Rosenthal, who was at the time conducting the auction sale in the store room next to the Ward House, made light of the affair and it is alleged stated that the property was lost by Mr. Kaufman other than through a robbery of his home. Great interest was centered in the case, and at least 100 witnesses had been subpoenaed, when the attorneys for the parties in controversy reached an agreement whereby litigation ends.

Century Old Thursday.

Mrs. Eliza McKean, widow of the late Allen McKean, and Towanda's oldest resident, will be 100 years old on Thursday of this week.

LANDLORDS IN PERIL.

Judge Declares That Courts Are Bound to Revoke Licenses.

The Western Pennsylvania Liquor Dealers' association has been thrown into a panic by the action of Judge J. F. Taylor of Washington county, who recently revoked the hotel licenses of three landlords at Finleyville, in that county.

In revoking the licenses for infractions of the law Judge Taylor quoted Chief Justice Paxton's decision on the Brooks law, which reads as follows:

"Where Proof is made to the court that the party holding the license has violated any of the laws relating to the sale of liquor the act is mandatory upon the judge to revoke the license. The evident intent of the statute was to take from the judge, upon proof of violation of the law, all discretion to the revocation. In this the act proceeds upon the theory that since the license is not a matter of right, but was granted upon the petition, and with the express condition that the party would obey the law, his failure to observe those regulations should work a summary forfeiture of his privilege. The act prohibits selling on Sunday, election day, to minors, persons visibly intoxicated, of known intemperate habits, sales upon credit in certain quantities, on passbook or store order or in exchange for goods or merchandise, permitting the customary visitation of disreputable persons, or keeping a disorderly house.

"All the prohibitionists relate to offenses that cannot, with possibly one exception, be performed in ignorance of mistake. It is within the power as it is within the duty of every tavern keper to conduct his place within conformity of the law."

The liquor element of Western Pennsylvania believe that if this opinion were generally enforced the license of almost every liquor dealer in Pennsylvania could be revoked.

Sullivan County Goes Republican.

In spite of its being an off year, and things politically very quiet, about four-fifths of the registered vote was polled in Sullivan county, resulting in the election of Albert F. Hess, Republican, as prothonotary, register and recorder and clerk of the courts, by a majority of 167, over Thomas H. Gallagher, Democrat. For sheriff Judson Brown, Republican, was successful over James H. Gansel by a majority of 90. The differtnce between the vote for Mr. Hess and Mr. Brown evidently represents the vote cast for William Hart, the Prohibition candidate for sheriff, who made a very active canvass.

Fruit Shower.

The ladies of the congregation of the Brick church, with some from Rome Presbyterian church, met at the parsonage on Thursday, Nov. 7, and gave Mrs. Davies, the pastor's wife, a fruit shower. WANDERED BACK AGAIN.

Italian Who Stole a Bike One Year Ago, Arrested Sunday.

Chief of Police Miller arrested Tony Bellodinee, an Italian, on Main street Sunday, shortly before noon on the charge of stealing a bicycle from M. H. Lines on Aug. 6, 1906. It is one of those cases where the wrong-doer wanders back again, and to his sorrow.

On the second day of August, 1906, Bellodinee who was among the Italians employed by Contractor Dolan on the railroad improvements at East Towanda, rented a bicycle of M. H. Lines to take a little spin. He rode away, and that was the lst seen of him. He was traced toWaverly from which place he shipped the bike to Middletown, but there all trace was lost.

Sunday Chief Miller was walking up Main street and noticing a number of Italians standing in front of Kaufman's store, decided to get closer where he could look them over. As he neared them, his eagle eye focussed on Bellodinee, whose year's absence had not changed him, and the next instant that son of Sunny Italy was under arrest. The prisoner commenced to beg, saying he broke the bicycle and that he would pay for it if they would only let him go. He was committed to jail and later arraigned before 'Squire Orcutt, who released him on bail for a hearing at 9 o'clock Monday morning. Constable Hollon became his surety.

Bellodinee says he has been working near Laquin for a couple of months and came to Towanda Sunday to do some shopping.

PUBLIC SCHOOL POEM.

To be memorized by the pupils of the public schools of Bradford county during November.

Don't Give Up.

[By Phobe Cary.]

If you've tried and have not won
Never stop for crying;
All that's great and good is done
Just by patient trying.

Though young birds, in flying, fall,
Still their wings grow stronger;
And the next time they can keep
Up a little longer.

Though the sturdy oak has grown
Many a blast that bowed her,
She has risen again, and grown
Loftier and prouder.

If by easy work you beat,
Who the more will prize you?
Gaining victory from defeat,
That's the test that tries you!

COLE AGAIN IN LIMBO.

Noted Criminal Did Not Get Far Away After Breaking Jail.

CAUGHT NEAR WHITNEY POINT

The Thought of Having to Stand Trial for Burglary as Well as Horse Stealing Made Him Long for the Open Country and Fresh Air.

Horace L. Cole, the notorious crook horse thief, tried-but-found-wanting preacher, suspected author and master of several other professions, who sawed the chisel proof bars of his cell in the Cortland, N. Y., jail and escaped Monday morning, taking with him Karmulo Sopiste, an Italian, being held on a petty charge, was captured in a swamp near Whitney Point in Broome county, Monday evening. Deputy Sheriff Rittenberg of Broome county, made the capture before Cole had time to address a souvenir post card to the jailer at Cortland.

He was being held in Cortland for trial on the charge of stealing a horse. Recently it was found that he was also wanted for burglary, alleged to have been committed near Whitney Point during the Whitney Point fair.

Attorney Roy C. McHenry of Binghamton, was retained to defend Cole and visited him in his cell last Thursday. He was then informed of the indictment of burglary found against him by the Broome county grand jury and it is thought that perhaps this may have made him long for a look at the beauties of nature, open air and freedom.

Cole's cell was located on the first floor of the jail and it was necessary for him to saw through the bars of his cell and then the bars in the window before he could get outside the building. Then it was necessary to climb over a high fence, which surrounds the jail.

It was not known in Cortland that he had escaped until he was seen near Whitney Point by some one who recognized him. Word was immediately sent to Binghamton and the surrounding towns and officers were sent to Whitney Point and a general alarm was sent out in that vicinity. Cole was soon captured by the searchers late Monday afternoon and taken to the Cortland jail again.

This was the fourth time that Cole has succeeded in breaking jail. He is now in solitary confinement and an extra watch has been placed over him.

Wire Pierced Heart.

A cow belonging to Silas Jagger died a couple of weeks ago under peculiar circumstances. Its queer symptoms before death aroused the curiosity of its owner, who had the animal examined. In the aesophagus or gullet was found a piece of hay wire about five inches that had also entered the heart, penetrating that organ to fully an inch in depth. Where it had been imbedded in the heart the wire was bright and shiny, as though polished. About four days previous to its death the animal appeared stiff and acted as though afflicted with rheumatism, while the milk flow diminished perceptibly, although her appetite remained good. The case is an unusual one and is made more remarkable by the fact of its living for days when a vital organ was pierced.—Montrose Republican.

High School Walloped.

Without any noise or announcement the Reliance foot ball team of Sayre hiked into the county seat shortly after midday yesterday, and about supper time they were feeling very chesty, having walloped the High school pigskin chasers by the score of 10-05. The game was pulled off on the East Side grounds, and was well worth seeing. Had it been announced a large crowd would have turned out to see the sport, but as 'twere the smoke of battle had cleared away, Sayre boys had their grips packed and Towanda was digging their colors from the dust before any one knew what was happening.

Powder Mill Blown Up.

One of the small mixing mills of the Wapwallopen powder plant, 15 miles from Wilkes-Barre, was blown up Monday, and the building, together with all the machinery, was completely wrecked. Fortunately at the time of the explosion, all of the employees were engaged in another part of the plant and so escaped injury.

Surveyors at Work.

Strange surveyors are at work in Wysox and Towanda township on both sides of the river, not far from Towanda. They arrived late Saturday night, and went to work bright and early Sunday morning. While nothing can be learned as to the why of this surveying, it is geenrally supposed to be the semi-occasional map-out of the P., B. and E.

SORT OF AN EXPLANATION.

Lehigh Official Tells How and Why $5,250 Was Paid Wysox.

"The public has received an erroneous impression as to the reason for the Lehigh paying $5,250 to the township of Wysox," is the startling statement credited to E. H. Shipman, assistant chief engineer of the Lehigh Valley Railroad company.

In discussing the matter with Editor Cotton of the Sayre Times-Record, Mr. Shipman said: "The truth of the matter is, Wysox township was not damaged, instead the highways were benefited. The Lehigh desired to straighten the main line from North Towanda past the East Towanda station and then in the direction of Wysox township. The Lehigh prepared to eliminate two grade crossings, one of them near the East Towanda station being acknowledged as the worst in this section of the country. The Lehigh desired in one instance to carry the wagon road across the Lehigh tracks on a bridge and in the other instance to carry the tracks over a highway on a bridge. This, as can be readily seen would be a benefit to Wysox. But when the Lehigh came to ask for the necessary concessions, the commissioners of Wysox township saw an opportunity to make some money for that township. They practiced practically a hold-up game. The Lehigh wanted to change those roads, was willing to put them in better condition than before, the Lehigh was preparing to greatly benefit the township, but the commissioners asked for more. The Lehigh knew it could force the matter, but realized that injunction would follow injunction and that improvement to the main line would be badly delayed. So finally the railroad company submitted to the exactions of the commissioners. The improvements to the tracks were made, and at the same time the roads of Wysox township were improved, two grade crossings eliminated and finally the Lehigh paid $5,250 for the privilege of giving Wysox better roads."

Have Athletic Field.

The Lehigh officers have given permission to the Athletic association organized a few months ago in the system shops at Sayre, to use the tract of ground a short distance South of the Auburn branch tracks and just West of Shepard's creek, in that village. The Athletic assocaition will erect a fence around the field by next Spring and it will be used for base ball games. The field will be used for the first time next Saturday when the shop foot ball team will meet the all-Binghamtons.

He is a good farmer who not only saves enough seed corn for his own use, but has some to sell to his neighbors in case their seed fails.

The shortest crop this fall is the supply of freight cars in which to transport to market the bumper grain and vegetable crops of the country.

Corn fodder and timothy hay do not form a complete ration for the farm animals. A ration of gluten meal should be added to make the bill of fare what it ought to be.

The practical argument against speculative enterprises, aside from the moral aspect involved, is that a fellow is never satisfied until he gets it in the neck and is compelled to quit.

Regularity in time of milking has not a little to do with keeping up the flow of milk of the dairy cow. Careful dairymen make much of this point and are regular as clockwork touching milking time.

In the face of the universality of school privileges in America and the high average of intelligence on the part of the common people resulting therefrom, it is difficult to realize that 90 per cent of the Russian people can neither read nor write.

While one enjoys the time of green peas, strawberries and sweet corn, it seems mighty fine to have the time roll around when a fire feels good in the house and when nothing tastes quite so good as a ration of pork and beans and brown bread.

Celery is never so crisp, juicy and toothsome as when it is dug out of a fellow's own garden and put on the table within twenty minutes. It surpasses the skinny imported stuff in just the same way that milk from one's own Jersey cow is an improvement upon the peddled city product.

An orchard of about 100 acres located not far from where the writer lives matured virtually no marketable fruit this year because grass had been allowed to grow in the orchard for several years past, furnishing a breeding place for the curculio, which insect was responsible for the marring of practically all the fruit in the orchard.

In spite of the fact that Missouri has acquired a reputation chiefly along the line of raising mules for the United States army, the showing which she made as a dairy state during the year 1906 was not a poor one. There were manufactured in the state 11,968,635 pounds of butter, worth $2,397,213, while the value of ice cream and other dairy products brought the total up to $3,966,189.

One farmer we know last year put the hay which he cut from some thirty acres into three small stacks at different points on his clover meadow. As a result a third or more of the hay was ruined by rain and exposure to the weather. This year he profited by his experience, making one big stack with aid of poles and hayfork, and as a consequence has a deep stack with compact and solid center, in which the hay will keep nicely through the winter. It perhaps took more time to haul the hay and build this big stack, but it will mean a decided saving of money in the end.

There is something out of whack with the fitness of things when unimproved and well nigh impassable roads are found skirting $75 to $100 land. Where such conditions exist it is time to preach the gospel of better highways and put the King road drag to work.

Owing to the fact that cows differ as to their capacity for food consumption and assimilation there may often be a loss through giving an animal a larger ration of food than she really needs. The painstaking dairyman will try to study the needs of his herd individually as well as collectively.

The use of cement for the floors and foundations of granaries, corncribs and other farm buildings is to be commended, if for no other reason, because they are rat proof. But aside from this such floors are just as practicable and inexpensive as wooden floors and are a great deal more durable.

It is uphill business trying to point out the advantages of up to date methods of agriculture to the fellow who is so shortsighted that he thinks he is economical in using a $40 instead of $200 sire in his herd of dairy or beef cattle. Such men are doomed to a plugging existence, no matter what is done to help them.

While cuts of meat from prize fat steers bring very high prices with high toned caterers, they are impracticable for [illegible] from the standpoint that they contain entirely too large a proportion of fat. In the case of heavy [illegible] beef steers the loss would be nearly 50 per cent of the meat as sold over the counter.

If one has tender varieties of roses which cannot stand the rigor of out of door winter weather and does not care to have the plants bloom during the winter, they may be carried through until spring in a satisfactory manner by taking them up just before the ground freezes, trimming the tops back rather short and packing the roots in moist earth in the cellar. To keep the tops from drying out they should be covered with sand, which should be moistened at intervals during the dormant period. Roses often lose their vitality to such an extent that they are virtually dead when spring comes, a difficulty that keeping the roots moist and the tops covered with sand tends to overcome.

While the busy season in the orchard is generally recognized to be during the spring, summer and early autumn, there are several things that may be done between November and April. One of these is a protection of the trees from rabbits and mice and another the hauling out and scattering under the trees of all fertilizer that may be available. In doing this it is perhaps well to remember the trees that bore heavily this season, as they will be especially in need of re-enforcing. In addition to this, work may be done in grubbing out dead trees or those that are sick and cannot survive another season. This will mean a saving of time next spring, when every minute will be needed for pruning, spraying and cultivation.

A VALUABLE BOOKLET.

"The Use of the National Forests" is the title of a little booklet issued lately by the forest service of the department of agriculture and containing concise, readable and valuable information for the general public as to the forest policy of the federal government. The various subjects are taken up in a simple and clear manner, aiming to give the largest amount of information in the smallest possible space. The purpose of the publication is to explain what the national forests mean, what they are for and how they are to be used for the benefit of the home seeker, the prospector and miner. Any who are interested in the preservation of the national forests or in forestry in general can secure a copy of the book by applying to the congressman from his district. The officials in charge of the forest service desire to have the information which the book contains given as wide dissemination as possible, as it is bound to create a public sentiment in favor of the work they are trying to do.

Arrangements have been made at the Garden City (Colo.) sugar refinery for the installing of a plant which shall convert into alcohol those portions of the beets which have hitherto been thrown away—the tops and upper portion of the root, which cannot be utilized in sugar manufacture. If the project proves as successful as anticipated, a great saving will be effected, as the beet sugar industry is as yet in its infancy.

It is an unseasonable cold snap rather than the prolonged and low temperature of the winter months that is most disastrous to fruit trees. As an illustration of this may be cited the fact that a freeze which struck the Michigan peach orchards early in October a year ago killed hundreds of trees outright in many places or weakened them so that they died the following spring and had to be dug out. Although it was only cold enough to freeze ice the thickness of an inch, it caught the trees unawares, and the shock was too severe for them to survive

Statistics recently completed by the department at Washington with a view to ascertaining the relative proportions of the two sexes of pigs at birth furnish some very interesting information. Reports were received from eighty-two breeders in some twenty-three states, while eight of the leading breeds were represented. The number of sows whose litters were reported was 1,477. It was found that the number of boar pigs was 6,660 and the number of sows 6,625. Reduced to the lowest terms, this means that for every 200 sows there were 201 boars. It is quite clear that, while things seem on the surface to go a good deal by chance in nature's operations, down deep a well defined law is constantly in operation.

A lady friend who is very successful in raising poultry, selling on an average about $30 worth of eggs per month during the laying season and raising from 600 to 800 chickens, turkeys, ducks and geese yearly, has for several years past had from a fourth to a third of her poultry stolen just before the time set for marketing them. The situation is both discouraging and exasperating. So far as we know, no dog is kept on the premises, but we believe that here is a situation where an alert, cross and even ugly dog would be of real service. Even if it were necessary to keep him chained he would likely make an uproar at the approach of chicken thieves, which would give the owners a warning and enable them to get action with a shotgun

The weed killing job of next spring and summer can be lightened considerably if the weeds which stand in the garden and have matured their seed are removed carefully and burned before all of the seed has dropped to the ground. While this may be a trifle on a par with locking the barn after the horse has been stolen, there is still some value in it.

A farmer living on a rural route near a western village wanted to be real good to a friend in town some sixty miles distant and sent him five pounds of honey by mail. By the time the package had reached its destination it had sprung a leak, with the result that it was smeared over every parcel in the pouch. It was a sweet meal in more ways than one.

It is more largely inability to secure food than the forbidding cold of the winter months that is responsible for the annual trip which most of our common birds make to southern latitudes. The crow, blue jay and sparrow winter in the north because they can find food on which to subsist. The more largely insectivorous song birds go south at the approach of winter because their food supply fails.

DON'T LIKE TO MILK.

It matters not how large a cream check one may hold up before some farmers as an incentive to get them to embark in the dairy business, they seem to have a constitutional dislike for milking cows and will have none of it in theirs. For such the beef breeds and doddies especially offer a way out, for they are supposed to have fulfilled their lacteal mission when their calves have been weaned. Properly managed there is good money in the raising of the strictly beef breeds, but hardly for the man whose real opposition to the dairy is that it means hard work. Many others like the work connected with the dairy, one such of our acquaintance stating that he would rather milk cows than eat—unless very hungry. For such the dairy makes an ideal farm occupation and a most profitable one as well.

FOREST PROTECTION.

A big lumber tract in the McCloud river valley in California has been given effective protection from damage by forest fires in a co-operative experiment carried on in connection with the forest service of the department of agriculture at an annual cost of just 2 cents per acre. The preventive measures adopted consisted of cutting protective timber-free strips through the forests, the maintenance of a corps of patrols and a telephone service and the purchase of such equipment as was needed in the fighting of fires. The measures adopted proved so successful and were carried out with so small an expense that in all probability they will be adopted more largely by the government in protecting the national forest reserves and by large lumber companies in protecting their timbered tracts.

THE FIRST FROST.

One of the regrets the writer felt at the first heavy frost was that it destroyed the food supply of two humming birds which made frequent visits to a bed of salvias near the dining room window. The morning after the first frost one of these little fellows came as the sun was rising, but found his usual haunt a very chilly place. After getting what sweets he could from several of the red flowers he lit on a blossom spike within two or three feet of the window, snuggled down and tried to warm himself in the rays of the sun. During the day he must have started on his southern pilgrimage, for the next morning he failed to appear.

On the first inst. we had the pleasure of inspecting Keystone grange, located at Minnequa. A goodly number in attendance, possessing a true grange spirit, assured a very favorable report. The secretary, Mrs Frances K. Granteer, has her books in excellent condition, giving full proceedings of the grange meetings. The ever present Master, J. W. Ketchum assisted by such workers as Hon. L. T Manley, Charles L. Crandall, Lyman Cole, and many of the 82 members should have an easy task to get the reward for wide-awake grange work

On the 9th inst. a Grange rally was held by Towanda Valley grange at West Franklin. The attendance was fair. Visitors were present from Granville Center, Union, Laurel Hill, Open Hand, and Iona granges. Many were present who do not belong to the grange, coming to see, listen and enjoy the farmer's best at the noon-day meal. The eaters, the workers and the thinkers sat "together with one accord," only the honorables present failing to know which of the twain had secured the greater part At 2 p. m. Worthy Master Scott Wilcox, called to order and introduced Hon. R. S. Edminston, who gave his views in brief of some social, religious and political questions. Hon. George Moscrip had much to say about parcel post and equalism of taxes, etc. The usual grange questions were the ones discussed by these speakers, presenting the same arguments for their adoption.

Ex-Commissioner of Pure Food, Dr. Warren, was called upon. He gave a brief statement of his work for the Pure Food Department, while he was at the head of it under the Pennypacker administration. He says the recent change in "pure food laws" places his successor in such a position that he can not meet with as much success as was secured under the Pennypacker administration. He urges all farmers to sign petitions and send them to our congressmen, state senators and President Roosevelt to use their influence to so amend the oleo laws that the farmer may be properly protected against the wrongs committed against the dairyman. He gave out blank petitions for all to sign.

"The National Stockmen and Farmsome of our correspondents that the er" says: "It has been charged by so-called Grange banks is without grange authority; that it is a private enterprise backed by a grange officitl and a certain capitalist, who were and are 'working the grangers.' It is also charged that these so-called Grange banks are not entitled to the use of the name which belongs to the great order of farmers; that the State grange has not authorized the use of its name or approved the enterprise * * *This it seems is a matter solely for the Grange to deal with, and no doubt some action will be taken in due time. * * * There should be a more clear understanding as to the relation of the Grange to the banks than now exists."

E. R. Mulford in the Republican Advocate, Wellsboro, Pa., Oct. 29 1907, says:

"The time for holding the annual session of the Pennsylvania State grange is but about two months off and it is now that the future policy of this organization should be considered. No organization ever had a better declaration of principles and upon them a great order has been erected Nevertheless there are a few things that could well be attended to now and our faith in the great body of working members prompts these suggestions.

"Nearly every fraternal order in this country has found to its interests recently to have it distinctly understood that no persons interested in the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors could become a member. The Grange in Pennsylvania should go one step further and withdrawal cards should be presented to any distiller wholesaler or retailer who may in any manner have succeeded in getting through the gates of the grange. In this move we would make no distinction between the keeper of a country tavern and the manufacturer no matter how high either has advanced in the order.

"In looking over the papers that come to our desk we notice that it is understood to be a fact that the Pennsylvania State grange controls the Grange National banks. This is a mistake. We can find no resolution or motion in the proceedings of the State grange authorizing the starting of any bank. Some of our state officers have seen fit to join with persons with like financial sentiments in organizing these banks, but the grange, as a grange has no voice in their management.

It seems to us the time is ripe when the subject should be taken up and carefully considered. If Grange banks are to be carried on they should have the State grange back of them, and the grange should have a voice in deciding their policy. Above all no one or two men should be allowed to be officials of more than one bank at one time. Fourteen financial institutions have already been chartered and it is reported that two names are on the board of directors of each one. It looks as though the man who held office on each board would have an unfair advantage over the member who only had a voice in one—just now it is 14 to 1. And again, if the grange is to let its name be used to further business interests of any kind it should receive a financial return from the profits of the business so conducted. Furthermore, only members of the order should be admitted to the business enterprises carried on by the grange. A farmer with a little home must join the grange before he can get it insured. Why should the business man have a greater privilege?

Another question that should be taken up is that of the care of aged members who may be deprived of a means of livelihood, and the education of children of our deceased members. There are enough members in this state to carry this matter to a successful issue and a small percentage from the profits of business being done in the name of the grange would maintain the work."

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

County Treasurer.

To the Voters of Bradford County:—

Gentlemen—Two years ago I circulated two petitions, one asking your County Judge to reduce the price paid for boarding county prisoners from 40 cents to 25 cents per day; the other asking that the fees paid the county treasurer be reduced from $4200 to $1500 per year. The petitions praying for relief from exhorbitant expenditures on these two items, signed by about 5000 taxpayers, were properly presented. The Court did his part, granted the request of the taxpayers as to boarding the prisoners and fixed the price of 25 cents per day. The Board of County Commissnoners and Auditors, a majority of whom were pledged to reduce the fees paid the County Treasurer to $1500 per year, met, and instead of reducing the fees as pledged, fixed the compensation at about $3,000 per year, and put forth the argument that the question of reducing the compensation had not been made an issue before the caucus with notice to the candidates.

I firmly believe that our taxes are unnecessarily high and that $1500 per annum is a sufficient compensation for the County Treasurer, and to bring the matter squarely before the taxpayers of Bradford County, I announce myself a candidate for the office of County Treasurer under Republican rules, and publicly assert if elected that I will discharge all the duties appertaining to said office, and not charge or accept a sum total greater than $1500 per year, and will present a petition to the proper board asking for said reduction in the sums paid to the County Treasurer, such change to take place January 1st, 1909. If you favor reducing the taxes in this item, also in other channels, I respectfully solicit your support and influence at the primaries on April 11, 1908. FRANK N. MOORE.

NEW YORK FASHIONS

Pattern For Box Plaited House Jacket Designed by May Manton—No. 5810.

Simple house jackets are always in demand, for they fill a definite, practical need. This one is laid in becoming box plaits and is attractive at the same time that it involves very little labor. The lovely yet serviceable wash flannels that are so desirable for cool weather morning wear are eminently appropriate. Cashmere, challis, albatross and the like are all correct, and never did any season offer a more tempting array of colors and designs. Three-quarter sleeves are unquestionably comfortable for morning wear by the busy woman, but this jacket allows a choice of that or full length. The back is half fitted, but the fronts are loose, held by a ribbon at the waist line. The jacket is made with fronts and back. There is the always satisfactory turnover collar finishing the neck, and the front edges are simply hemmed. The three-quarter sleeves are gathered into bands, to which roll over cuffs are joined, but the long ones are finished with deep, plain cuffs.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is 4¼ yards 27, 3¾ yards 32 or 2⅞ yards 44 inches wide.

Sizes for a 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inch bust.

"IN GOD WE TRUST" OMITTED FROM COIN.

Familiar Words Do Not Appear on New $10 Gold Pieces.

The first of the new coins designed by the late Augustus St. Gaudens, under the general direction of President Roosevelt, has reached the treasury department from the Philadelphia mint. It is the $10 gold piece, or half eagle, and for the first time since 1873 the words "In God we trust," are omitted from the coin. It is understood that these words will be omitted from the coins of all the other denominations, according to the designs approved by President Roosevelt.

It could not be learned at the treasury department who was responsible for the omission of the words "In God we trust," but the department officers have had nothing to do with the change in the coin designs except to carry out the orders of the President.

The Secular League of the District of Columbia and other organizations of the same kind have been making an intermittent campaign for years against the use of the name of the Deity in Thanksgiving proclamations and various official documents, and especially against the use of the motto "In God We Trust" on the coins of the nation. All the old coins above the dime bear this motto.

The new gold coin issued from the mint bears on one side a spread eagle holding a number of arrows in its talons and on the other side the head of an Indian in full war costume.

WANT TO CHANGE ROUTE.

P., B. and E. Wants to Enter New York State Near Litchfield.

The hearing on the application of the Pittsburg, Binghamton and Eastern Railroad company for permission to change its proposed route in New York state, was started before the Public Service commission in Albany Thursday.

The company, which had planned to enter Binghamton on the South side of the Susquehanna and to cross into Pennsylvania a few miles below that city, now plan to have the road enter the state near Litchfiled, six miles South of Nichols, to go up the valley on the South side of the Susquehanna, cross the river at Apalachin and to enter Binghamton through the First ward.

The Erie Railroad company had an attorney present to oppose the motion. The P., B. and E. was represented by its vice-president and chief engineer, H. A. Schwanecke, and its attorneys, Richard A. Storey of Boston, John W. Whitmore of Philadelphia, and Theodore R. Tuthill of Binghamton.

Show Making Good.

The New Albany Mirror has the following to say of J. K. Smith's moving picture and vaudeville show which recently started from Towanda: "The moving picture and vaudeville show at the Exchange hall Monday and Tuesday nights was the best entertainment of the kind that ever struck the town. The pictures were excellent, and the singing of Dee Cook and the performances of Mrs. Cook proved them to be artists in their line. J. K. Smith, the manager, is an old newspaper man and knows how to make the most of a good thing."

Wilbur—Fitzgerald.

Miss Birdie Fitzgerald, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fitzgerald, of Athens, and Charles T. Wilbur, formerly of Washington, but for some time past, a resident of Athens, were married at Chemung Wednesday afternoon, the ceremony being performed by Rev. W. A. Stockhouse, pastor of the Methodist church at that village. The bride is one of the most popular young ladies of Athens and was last year assistant teacher in the Warner kindergarten at Sayre. The groom is a stenographer. Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur will reside in Athens.

Woman Drops Dead in the Road.

Last Friday Mrs. T. C. Cooney, aged about 60, who lives on the Troy road about three miles North of Canton, dropped dead at the edge of the road opposite her house. She had been gathering hickory nuts and was returning from the field when she was seized with heart failure. She was carried into the house and Dr. Dann, who was driving by was called, but it was evident that death came almost instantaneously. Funeral services were held from the Church of Christ in Alba on Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Blair, assisted by Rev. Mr. Porter and Rev. Mr. Martin.

Italians Laid Off.

A gang of 53 Italians located at Tunkhanock, and working on the Lehigh work train was paid off Wednesday evening. Fifteen of them left for Italy, and nearly all the rest were at once engaged to work on the Lackawanna. That road seems short of men and is hiring all that it can procure, and as fast as they are let go by other roads at the approach of cold weather, they are being employed on that line.

Thomas Fields of Ridgebury died at 6:30 o'clock Thursday morning at the Robert Packer hospital. He was 16 years of age. Four days ago he was admitted to the hospital for treatment for congestion of the lungs.

Many Bounties Paid.

During the past six weeks the commissioners have paid bounties on 40 minks and weasels killed in this county. A bounty of $4 has been paid on a wildcat, and $2 on a red fox, also. The state pays these bounties through the commissioners.

POST CARD EVIL.

Uncle Sam After the Prevalent Mania Which Threatens Country.

Postoffice officials are convinced that the picture postal card show is the greatest single corruptor of public morals.

They declare the custom of sending these souvenirs has developed into a mania, the extent of which it is hard to estimate. More than a million a day are mailed at the various postoffices of the country, and daily from 40,000 to 60,000 are buried in the dead letter office because of their objectionable nature.

Thousands of complaints have been received the cards directed plainly and properly stamped have not reached their destination. This is because Postmaster General Meyer is on the warpath, and his subordinates say persons who try to send improper cards through the mails in the future will get into trouble.

When the craze started tons of cards with objectionable pictures were imported from France and Germany. Many were so bad that even fourth-class postmasters sent them direct to the dead letter office without asking for instructions. The matter was reported to the secretary of the treasury and orders prohibiting their importation were sent to all the principal custom houses.

As a result hundreds of thousands of cards were confiscated at the ports of New York and Boston. But the strictest serveilance has proved only partially effective. To add to the postmaster general's troubles a number of American concerns now are turning out thousands of cards daily that rival anything ever conceived in the Latin quarter.

ISAAC C. PIATT INJURED.

Former Towandian Badly Hurt While at Work in the Sayre Shops.

Isaac C. Piatt, a former well known resident of Towanda, being for several years employed in the Frost's Sons blacksmith shop, was severely injured by being struck with a piece of iron while at work in the Sayre shops Wednesday morning.

Mr. Piatt was standing near a steam hammer. Suddenly a piece of iron that had been struck by the hammer flew from the anvil and struck Mr. Piatt's abdomen, just a little to the right of the center. He was knocked unconscious for some time but finally regaining his senses he was placed on a stretcher and carried to Lehigh avenue. There he was placed in a day and taken to his home. Dr. H. D. La Plant was summoned and found Mr. Piatt suffering much pain. If no internal injuries were inflicted he will quickly recover but the attending physician is as yet unable to make a diagnoses as to the extent of his injuries.

Can't Fool a Woman.

During the absence of Sheriff Travis a few days ago the prisoners in the jail set up such a din that it brought Mrs. Travis to the grated door at the entrance to the corridor. Asking what was the matter, she was told that a fire had started in one of the cells and that the smoke was suffocating them. She sensibly refrained from opening the door, but told them to put the fire out, as they could get plenty of water in there. They at first professed not to be able to do so, but when they saw that she was not coming in they extinguished the smoke. It was doubtless a ruse to enable them to escape. Two of the men were under sentence to the State penitentiary.—Tunkhannock New Age.

But it cannot make a Fair Skin or a Glossy Coat.

Women with good complexions cannot be homely. Creams, lotions, washes and powders cannot make a fair skin. Every horseman knows that the satin coat of his thoroughbred comes from the animal's "all-right" condition. Let the horse get "off his feed" and his coat turns dull. Currying, brushing and rubbing will give him a clean coat, but cannot produce the coveted smoothness and gloss of the horse's skin, which is his complexion. The ladies will see the point.

CONDUCTOR CYRUS DUNN KILLED IN FREIGHT WRECK

Well Known Railroader and Former Resident of Towanda, a Victim of a Rear End Collision on the Lehigh at a Point Near Hemlock Run, Early Sunday Morning.

Cyrus Dunn, a former resident of Towanda, and one of the best known railroad conductors on the Pennsylvania division of the Lehigh Valley, was killed in a rear-end collision near Hemlock Run, about one mile and a half North of Sugar Creek at 4:45 o'clock Sunday morning. The wreck was one of the worst on this division in a long time.

Story of the Wreck.

A long mixed freight train, Westbound, stopped for water at Irving's siding, a short distance East of Ulster. Another Westbound freight running about 25 miles an hour followed several blocks behind. The locomotive on the second train was in charge of Harry Crans, engineer, and Morton Coe, fireman. Lehigh officials would not give out any information concerning the wreck, but as near as can be learned, Engineer Crans, after passing Towanda, went back to assist his fireman in some work, and did not see the closed block and the train ahead until so close he could not stop.

He reversed the engine, applied the brakes and made a desperate effort to avert the crash, but the heavy train could not be stopped and in a minute later, the locomotive ploughed into the caboose of the stationary train.

Instantly Killed.

The caboose which was occupied by Conductor Dunn, and a wayfarer, was crushed and tossed to one side. When members of the crew reached Dunn he was dead, having evidently been instantly killed. Coe, fireman on the telescoping engine, received a slight scalp wound, while Engineer Crans escaped uninjured.

The escape of the man who was in the caboose with Dunn was miraculous. He was thrown out by the force of the collision, but did not receive even a scratch.

Caboose Took Fire.

The wrecked caboose immediately took fire, and in a few minutes was reduced to ashes. The wreck crew from Sayre hurried to the scene, and late last evening finished cleaning up the debris. The locomotive was badly damaged, and lay across the Eastbound track along side of a big steel coal car, which it struck after ploughing through the caboose.

Dr. T. B. Johnson and son Dr. T. Ben Johnson, were taken to the scene of the wreck on a special train about 5 o'clock. They dressed Coe's injuries and made an examination of the body of Dunn, finding that death had been caused by a fracteured skull and internal injuries which were of a terrible nature, the body being badly crushed.

Brief Sketch of Cyrus Dunn.

In the death of Cyrus Dunn, who was killed in the wreck at Irving's Siding Sunday morning Sayre loses one of its best citizens, who during his 18 years of residence in that place made a host of friends, especially among the railroad men with whom he came most frequently in contact.

He was born at Standing Stone, October 10, 1856. When a boy his parents moved to Franklindale, where May 20, 1876, he married Amelia Rockwell. Two years after his marriage the family moved to Barclay where they lived for about ten years, when they moved to Sayre and lived for a time on what is now Lincoln street. Mr. Dunn was employed by the Lehigh from the time of his moving to Sayre until the strike of 1893, when he removed to Towanda and engaged in the restaurant business for one year. He then returned to Sayre and again engaged in railroading and continued until his death. He has been a conductor for the last 11 years, and held the highest confidence of the Lehigh officials and of the men with whom he worked.

Five years ago last july he was seriously injured while in the performance of his duties, and for a long time his recovery was uncertain, and that accident happened within two miles of the spot where he was killed Sunday. At the time he was hanging to the side of a car watching a hot box when he came in contact with the edge of a platform and was terribly injured.

He was a prominent member of the Order of Railroad Conductors, of the Sayre lodge of Odd Fellows and the Macabees.

Besides his wife he is survived by two sons: Emory and Robert, who reside at home, and one sister, Miss Clara Dunn of Powell, and two brothers, Elmer of Powell, and Henry Dunn of Franklin.

The funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon. There was a short service at the house at 1:30 o'clock and at the West Sayre Church of Christ at 2 o'clock. The service was conducted by Rev. Henry F Keltch. The pall bearers consisted of of two members from each of the three lodges to which he belonged. The burial took place at Tioga Point cemetery, and the services at the grave were in charge of the Order of Railway Conductors.

MINISTER CHANGES FAITH.

Methodist Preacher Will Take Charge of Episcopal Church.

A news dispatch from Bloomsburg says: Church circles were surprised by the announcement that the Rev. W. H. Benford had resigned the pastorate of the Methodist Episcopal church, at Benton, withdrawn from that denomination and would enter the ministry of the Protestant Episcopal church.

It is understood that Bishop Darlington of Harrisburg, has already assigned Mr. Benford to an Episcopal church in Tioga county. No reason has been given for the change of faith.

Served Him Right.

A Wellsboro young man was one of the losers by the collapse of the Knickerbocker bank in New York last week. The banks at Wellsboro were not good enough for him to deposit his surplus cash in, he couldn't patronize home institutions because it would sound big and seem nice to have money in a New York bank. He got stung good and proper for his vain foolishness and everybody in Wellsboro has joined in the chorus of "served him right."

"The City of Promise."

"The City of Promise," the new name given Towanda, is being recognized by the newspapers throughout Central and Northern Pennsylvania and Southern New York. Now when they refer to Towanda, instead of saying the "dark city," they write it thus —Towanda, "The City of Promise." A. M. Baker, the cash grocer, is the first to use the new appelation in advertising, and it looks good in display type.

Couldn't Fool His Sister.

Elisha Bowen, of Denver, Col., arrived at Knoxville, Tioga county, the other day to visit his sister, Mrs. S. B. Smith, whom he had not seen for 60 years. His coming was unheralded. Mr. Bowen announced that he had come to buy the farm, but the minute his sister's eyes fell on him, she said: "Elisha Bowen, you don't want to buy any farm; I know you, even if I have not seen you in more than half a century."

PEBBLE FACTORY CLOSES.

Retrenchment Policy Being Enforced by the County Prison Board.

Like the railway corporations, the Bradford County Prison board, consisting of Commissioners Marsh, McNulty, and Harkness, have adopted and are enforcing a retrenchment policy in their branch of county affairs. The pebble factory in the rear of the court house has been discontiued, the prisoners laid off and the manufacture of small stones out of the big ones is ceased.

The Prison board have found it very expensive to keep prisoners at work on the stone pile during the Winter, and as the pebble market is a poor one, the receipts do not justify the expense. Nine out of ten prisoners when committed to jail have hardly enough clothes on their backs to eliminate them from the nude class and as they would not look well working in the rear of the big temple of justice attired in fig leaves, like Adam of old it has been decided to work them not during the Winter months. This will save the county the expense of purchasing clothes and shoes for every illegal train-rider and others sent to jail to serve ten, 20, and 30 day sentences, that they may be worked on the stone pile without endangering their health and becoming ill.

The stone pile in the rear of the court hotse is being rid up, and the cracked there. A new place will be cracktd there. A new place will be found for the chain gang to wrok when the occasion demands and it will not be in one of the most conspicuous places in the county. At present the prisoners are being worked on a new concrete retaining wall in the rear of the jail to replace one which has long needed repair.

G. M. Hoffman a Candidate.

The card of G. M. Hoffman of Terry, announcing his candidacy for register and recorder on the Republican ticket, appears in another column of this paper. Mr. Hoffman was a candidate three years ago for the same office and although he failed in securing the nomination the large vote polled for him was an indication of his political strength. Terry township, Mr. Hoffman says, has not had her share of the party's favors and he thinks it is time her claims have recognition.
